GAS EXPLOSION AT THE CAPITOL.

A gas main in the Capitol under the center of the dome, in what is known as the Washington crypt, exploded this afternoon with very great force, blowing out all the heavy frame work surrounding and tearing all the doors and frames and windows to splinters and scattering them through the basement passages in all directions. The effect of the explosion was such as to create alarm for a time for the safety of the building. Part of the funeral paraphernalia of the late President Lincoln, which had been placed for safe keeping in the crypt, was ignited by the flames and partially destroyed. The broken glass from the basement windows was blown through the passages as far as the west entrance of the building, and portions of the wood work scattered through a large portion of the eastern and southern wings of the old building. Notwithstanding the apprehension and dread attendant upon an immediate investigation of the affair, all the employes were promptly on hand and measures at once taken to prevent further damage as well as to repair that already occasioned. Fortunately no one was in the vicinity at the time of the accident, and consequently no one was injured.

ASSESSMENT OF SPECIAL TAXES.

Instructions in relation to the assessment and re-assessment of special taxes under the act of July 20th, 1868, have just been prepared at the Internal Revenue Department. Distillers commencing business subsequent to the passage of the act will be assessed for the unexpired portion of the year at the rate of four hundred dollars per annum, beginning with the first day of the month in which they commenced business, which entitles them to produce or manufacture at the rate of one thousand barrels per annum. Distillers who have been assessed and paid special tax for the current year of one hundred dollars will be assessed at the increased rate In making the re-assessment all allowance will be made for the portion of the tax already paid appropriate to the unexpired portion of the year. The tax will be reassessed to August first, three-fourths of the year. Rectifyers are required to pay two hundred dollars for not exceeding two hundred barrels and fifty cents for each barrel in excess of that number. Persons who engage in rectifying under the new act will be assessed the pro rata proportion of the two hundred dollats, and the fifty cents tax per barrel will be collected on each barrel in excess of such pro rata proportion of the two hundred dollars, and the fifty cents tax per barrel will be collected on each barrel in excess of such pro rata proportion of two hundred barrels. The specific special tax on wholesale liquor dealers is not changed, but a change is made in the rate of additional tax on sales and on sales in excess of which additional tax is to be collected. If a person commences business as a liquor dealer in August, he would be liable to special tax appropriate to the unexpired portion of the year, or three-fourths of one hundred dollars, and this would cover the sale of three-fourths of $25,000, or $18,750, which, when exceeded, he must begin to make separate returns and pay the additional rate required under the old law. A wholesale liquor dealar, who paid the special tax of one hundred dollars at the commencement of the year, should be charged for sales made prior to July 20th, at the old rates, and for those made afterwards at the new. The end will be reached by exempting him from monthly tax unless his sales made after July 20th, reach half the amount which he might have sold had there been no change in the law. Thus if he had sold $30,000 worth before the change he may sell $10,000 afterwards. If he sold $40,000 worth before, he may sell $50,000 after the change. Manufacturers of stills will be assessed pro rata for the unexpired portion of the year, that is, seven-ninths of $50,000 or $38,89. If, however, he has already paid a special tax of ten dollars as a manufacturer, he will be entitled to a deduction of seven-ninths of ten dollars, making the amount to be assessed $31,12. In addition to this, he is liable to a tax of twenty dollars for each still and twenty dollars for each worm made for distilling. If, however, he manufactures other articles beside stills or worms, he is not entitled to any deductions on account of the special tax paid as a manufacturer.

Dealers in leaf tobacco, whose sales do not exceed ten thousand dollars, are to pay twenty-five dollars, and in addition two dollars for every thousand dollars in excess of ten thousand dollars. If in business on July 20th they will be assessed seven-ninths of twenty-five dollars, and when sales exceed seven-ninths of $10,000 will become subject to the additional tax of two dollars per $1,000. Dealers commencing business subsequent to that time will be assessed a pro rata proportion of $25, counting from the first day of the month in which they commenced, and the tax of two dollars will attach when their sales shall exceed the same pro rata proportion of $10,000. Wholesale dealers in tobacco and manufacturers of cigars and of tobacco, who sell leaf tobacco, must pay the special tax of dealers in leaf tobacco in addition to their other special taxes. Every person whose business is to sell manufactured tobacco, snuff or cigars, is regarded as a dealer in tobacco, and where the annual sales exceed one hundred dollars and do not exceed one thousand dollars, must pay five dollars and two dollars in addition for each one thousand dollars in exeess of ten thousand dollars. Any retail dealer, wholesale or retail dealer, or keeper of a hotel or eating house, who sells tobacco, snuff or cigars, must pay in addition to his special tax as such a tax as a dealer in tobacco. The assessment for the unexpired portion of the year will be in accordance with the principles before stated. Manufacturers of tobacco are required to pay a special tax of two dollars. If they manufacture segars they must also pay a special tax as such in addition. If they have already been assessed a special tax as tobacconists, they will not be reassessed as manufacturers of tobacco. In addition to the special tax of ten dollars, a tobacco manufacturer, where the amount of the penal sum of his bond exceeds five thousand dollars, is liable to a tax of two dollars for each thousand dollars. In making the assessment Assessors will estimate the amount of tax which would be due for a year, and where the assessment is to date from the time of the passage of the act, assess the manufacturer seven-ninths of that amount, and where he commences business subsequent to the month of July the pro rata proportion of such amount for the unexpired portion, if they are dating from the first day of the month in which he so commences business. Manufacturers of tobacco are not required to pay special tax as dealers in tobacco for selling the products of their own manufacture. Manufacturers of segars are required to pay ten dollars when their annual sales do not exceed five thousand dollars, and in addition two dollars for each one thousand in excess of five thousand. Those who have already paid tax as tobacconists, and do not manufacture tobacco, will not be required to pay another special as cigar manufacturers. In such case he will be assessed for the rateable proportion of ten dollars and the tax of two dollars per 1,000 will be upon the excess of the pro rata proportion of $5,000.

Distillers, compounders, manufacturers of stills, tobacco and cigars, are not subject to the tax on sales proposed by section 4th of the act of March 31st, 1868.

DOMESTIC EXPORTS.

The Director of the Statistical Bureau reports the aggregate of domestic exports for the last fiscal year at $362,616,006, an increase over the previous year of $18,146,890.

An Alarming Plot.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, July 7.—The Union and Dispatch, Democratic newspaper, published a charge this morning that white and colored men had entered into a plot to burn Nashville, Murfreesboro, Columbia and Pulaski, murdering men, women and children. At a meeting of the citizens this afternoon a committee was appointed to wait on the Mayor and Aldermen and ask an investigation. The same paper says that it can give names. It is supposed some crazy fanatics are at the bottom of the plot, if it really exists.

—The testimonial ordered by our government for presentation to Geo. Peabody, as an acknowledgment of his munificence to the cause of education in this country, is on exhibition in New York. It is in the form of a symbolical monument, consisting of a pedestal of ebony three inches wide, eight inches long and an inch and a half in height, on which rises a purple velvet block six and a half inches long and two and a half high. On this rises a massive gold plinth, resting on the center of which is an upright medal, the disc of which presents are excellent medal profile of Mr. Peabody. On the obverse disc is the following inscription beautifully cut: "The people of the United States to George Peabody, in acknowledgement of his benificent promotion of universal education." On the right hand of the medallion likeness rises a female statue, representing benevolence, holding a laurel bough. On the left are two nude figures of children, white and black. The white child points proudly to the medallion face, while the black, pointing to himself, appears to look as if he too was to be benefitted. Behind this group rises a three trunked palmetto tree. Beneath the obverse disc is a collection of the symbols of education. In the centre is a geographical globe which revolves at the touch. Below this is an unrolled map of the United States, with the Bible and school books at the right and left.

—The New York Bricklayers' strick is probably ended. At a meeting of the joint committee of journeymen yesterday the Treasurer stated he had a conference with the President of the Master Masons Society on the previous day and learned from him the bosses would be inclined to yield eight hours if the men consented to a modification of the apprentice law and of that law forbidding bosses from working on the same scaffold. After considerable debate the joint committee appointed a sub-committee of three to wait on the bosses and were empowered to agree to the above named terms. There seems to be but little doubt that the compromise will be agreed to.

—A freight train from New York for Boston, on Thursday evening, ran off the bridge at Norwalk, Connecticut, in consequence of the "draw" being left open through the carelessness of the watchman. The engine, tender and five heavily laden freight cars were piled on top of each other in the water, a perfect wreck. Some half a dozen brakemen were injured, but none seriously.

—A shooting affray occurred at Memphis, yesterday, between two builders, named McKenna and Johnson, who were partners. While discussing some work a dispute arose. McKenna drew a pistol and fired at Johnson, who seized a shot gun and fired at McKenna, mortally wounding him. Johnson surrendered himself to the authorities.

Louisiana Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, August 7.—In the House, yesterday, a protest from the two Democratic members ousted, with a motion that it be spread upon the records, was returned to the displaced members by a vote of forty-five to fourteen.

In the Senate, to-day, Mr. Jewell offered a resolution that a committee of three be appointed to wait on Gov. Warmoth and ascertain from him the time and place of the hundred and fifty murders which he says have been committed during the last six weeks, and also to obtain the letter of District Attorney Hudspeth, alluded to, which charges the indiscriminate murder of men, women and children in the Eighth Judicial District.

Mr. Jewell followed his resolution with an intensely bitter speech upon the action of the Governor, in the course of which he states that five hundred stand of arms were known to be in the building opposite the State House, and occupied as the headquarters of the Republican party. Mr. Jewell also stated that as no law of Louisiana provided for a Governor's staff, with military ranks, Lieutenant Colonel Deane, bearer of the letter, must be Lieutenant Colonel upon his staff as Commander-in-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, there being as yet no militia organization. The Governor, in his enumeration of the secret military, but ostensibly political, associations, neglected to mention the Loyal League and Grand Army of the Republic, of which latter he is at the head in this State.

Jewell's resolution was referred to the Joint Committee on Civil Affairs.

Sheriff's Party Resisted—Three Men Killed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, August 7.—A leeter from Warren, Benton county, gives an account of the affair reported this morning. It seems that warrants were put in the hands of Sheriff Mitchell for the arrest of two men named Dickinson and Harris, the former indicted for murder. Dickinson was arrested without difficulty, but when the Sheriff's party approached the house in which Harris (who is a notorious desperado) had taken refuge, the demand for surrender was answered by a volley from double-barreled guns, fired from windows, resulting in the death of the Sheriff's brother, Jasper Mitchell, and a man named Horace E. Petts, and mortally wounding of W. W. Smith. The Sheriff's party then retired. Some hours afterwards the mail coach was robbed by Harris' gang and the passengers plundered of seven hundred dollars. The letter does not mention Ku-Klux, nor does it say politics were in any way involved in the affair.

Ship Struck by Lightning.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BELFAST, ME., August 7.—The steamship William Tibbitts, from Boston, while entering the harbor this evening was struck by lightning, which tore in pieces the foremast and foresail and thence passed into the pilot house, which was almost demolished. Captain Ingraham, who was in the pilot house, was seriously injured, and a young lady passenger prostrated by the stroke. Eugene Ingraham, the pilot, was so seriously burnt that his recovery is doubtful. The fluid passed along the wheel ropes to the rudder, and in its course knocked a man overboard, who was soon rescued, however. None of the other passengers were injured. The hull of the steamer was not damaged.

Alabama Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MONTGOMERY, August 7.—The House today, by seventy-three to thirteen, passed the Senate bill removing disabilities from all persons not allowed to vote by the State Constitution. In the Senate a bill was passed, by fourteen to thirteen, which neutralizes this, by taking away from the people the right to vote for Presidential electors and giving it to the Legislature. It was sent to the House immediately, where it was made the special order for to-morrow at ten o'clock. The bill will undoubtedly pass. Dispatches from the recently elected Senators were received to-day advising this course.

Florida Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TALLAHASSE, Aug. 7.—The Legislature yesterday passed over the Governor's veto the bill to pay to members one year's pay for services from June to December, and adjourned at midnight until November 3d, when they will choose Presidential electors.

Y., and Boston, which will be done in eighteen months.

GRANT AND COLFAX CLUBS.

FIRST WARD CLUB.

A meeting of the Republican voters of the First ward was held last evening in City Hall for the purpose of perfecting the organization of a Grant and Colfax Club. The meeting came to order at eight o'clock, Josiah Cohen, Esq., presiding, and W. B. Hunter officiating as Secretary.

Mr. Hunter, from the Committee on Permanent Organization, reported, recommending the following list of officers:

President—Josiah Cohen.

Vice Presidents—Joseph Ross, G. W. Coffin, James Rees, John McLanahan.

Secretaries—W. B. Hunter, John W. Hay, D. R. Speer.

Executive Committee—George W. Coffin, Alexander W. Rook, John Fitzsimmons, Allen B. McQuewan, Edwin Kincaid, Geo. B. Hubbard, John Seiferth, Thomas Rees, George W. Perkins and Daniel O'Neill.

Committee on Speakers and Meetings—Alexander W. Rook, Joseph Ross and Jas. Rees.

Finance Committee—Joseph Ross, Jas. Rees, Fred. K. Schild, George W. Coffin, W. B. Hunter, B. Oppenheimer, Adams Getty, Allen B. McQuewan.

The report was adopted.

On motion, Friday evening of each week was selected as the time for the regular meetings of the Club.

Mr. Cohen made a brief but stirring speech, urging upon all the importance of organizing and devoting time to the work before them. He said the contest was not one of party, but of principle. It was for the preservation of these principles of self-government which every American holds next to life. Each should exert himself in the coming cantest as though the result depended upon his labors alone. A happy future is before the country if the nominees of the Republican party are elected.

At the conclusion of Mr. Cohen's remarks he was loudly applauded, after which the meeting adjourned.

THE THIRD AND TENTH WARDS.

An adjourned meeting of the Republican voters of the Third and Tenth wards was held at City Hall last evening, Col. Alex. Hilands in the chair.

The Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved.

Mr. McCormick, from the Committee on Permanent Organization, submitted the following report, which was accepted and approved:

President—Alexander Hilands.

Vice Presidents—Dr. T. G. Gallaher, J. M. Fass, John Rippey, M. O. Jones, M. D., Henry Frees, Robert Smith, George Glass, Nicholas Schwartz, J. H. Lippincott, R. H. Long, Frederick Doerr, John Grip, Daniel Dalb, J. M. Hoffman, Alexander Atkinson, Henry Dunniler, John Jahn, August Steinmeyer, Norval Holmes, Peter Dressler, John D. Eagan.

Secretaries—Samuel P. Fulton, Esq., Dr. Wm. J. Gilmore, H. H. McCormick, Esq., H. D. Gamble, Esq.

Finance Committee—William J. Gilmore, John Shipton, David Sims, Joseph Abel, James Montooth, James McLain, Robert W. Mackey, Wm. R. Weyman.

Committee on Meetings and Speakers—Wm. Little, H. H. McCormick, Esq., Jacob H. Miller, Esq., Wm. J. White, C. Snively, Esq.

Committee on Banners and Transparencies—William Simpson, John Keyser, A. W. Smith, Andrew Sims, John F. Brown.

Committee on Music—Adam Young, Jno. Ochse, Charles Reichspahr, Lewis Duft, Louis Cella.

On motion, it was decided that the Club meet at City Hall until some further arrangements for a place of meeting be made.

Mr. John T. Brown offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Executive Committee of the city of Pittsburgh be requested to change the place of holding the primary election of August 15th for the Third ward of said city from the corner of Sixth and Smithfield streets to the public school house in said ward.

On motion, the Secretary was instructed to notify the City Executive Committee of the passage of the resolution.

On motion of R. D. Barker, it was resolved to appoint Block Committees for the ward.

Dr. Gallaher moved that the meetings of the Club be held every Friday evening. Adopted.

William Little, Esq., was called upon and made a brief speech, stating that the platform of the Democratic party was made by rebels, and we were still fighting the same enemy we had vanquished in battle, and he hoped all would gird on the armor for the conflict.

J. H. Miller, Esq., made an excellent speech, stating that judging from the events of the past few years the Democratic party never learned anything, as they were still laboring for the "lost cause." The amendment to the Constitution settled all these questions which were at issue, and it was the duty of the people to approve it. The devil was a man of business, and when the Democrats met in convention and passed such resolutions as they had, it was probable that they would go farther and become regular rebels. The Republican party had a great work to do and should be about it.

Josiah Cohen, Esq., was introduced and said he had had the honor of participating in the organization of a Grant Club just before attending this. These organizations indicated that a feeling of brotherly love pervaded the Republican party. This party must be successful, especially when it had a man of such virtue and patriotism, and whose record shone so beautifully upon the pages of American history. The country should and would not be afraid to trust the great issues of the day in the hands of the victorious General

At the close of Mr. Cohen's speech the meeting adjourned.

Over forty new members were enrolled, and the Club is in a very prosperous condition.

The Robinson Monument.

Among the many handsome and costly monuments which attract the attention of the visitor to Allegheny Cemetery, the memorial placed in position on Tuesday over the remains of Gen. Wm. Robinson and consort will hereafter occupy a front rank. The monument, with the exception of the base, is made of the best Parian marble, and stands twenty-three feet high from foundation to cap. The base is of Freeport dressed stone, five and a half feet square and five feet high. Rising above the base is the die of solid marble, square in form and five feet in height, on which is inscribed the names and ages of the deceased. Resting on the die is the shaft, twelve feet high, with the name "Robinson" in raised letters on each of the four sides. Surmounting the shaft is a plain cap of the same material, about three feet in thickness. The whole affair, costing four thousand dollars, is a model of plain but very neat workmanship, there being no ornamentation around it except the mouldings of the base, die and cap. It was prepared from the design by Messrs. Boggs and Lindsay, of Allegheny, and is said to be the largest solid monument in the Cemetery.

The Washington and Jefferson College Commencement—The Consolidation Question.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

CANONSBURG, Aug 6, 1868.

A deep interest is manifested, as our readers already know, both in Canonsburg and Washington, in regard to the action of the Trustees of Washington and Jefferson College, relative to consolidation. The colleges were united three years ago upon a basis which experience has proven to have been unwise and injudicious, and it is now the general impression of the friends of both institutions that unless a more perfect consolidation can be effected, one institution merged into the other, and located at one place, that both must perish, and to this end the Trustees have been laboring. The union desired could early be consummated were it not for the conflicting local interests of the two places, Washington and Canonsburg, and doubtless would have been so made at the time of the first union had it not been for these opposing interests.

The Board of Trustees, who doubtless have the welfare of the institution at heart, and who are willing to sacrifice any local prejudices they entertain for its advancement, have had several meetings during the week, during which the matter has been thoroughly canvassed, and at the last session passed a resolution providing for a consolidation of the institutions on the terms desired, but have not determined upon the location, leaving that matter to be decided upon in the future. It is the general impression that the locality which will pay the most money will have the college. We have every confidence in the wisdom and judgment of the men who compose the board, and feel confident that they will do that which will most advance the interests of the institution. Canonsburg and the surrounding country can ill afford to part with the college, as it will not only depreciate the town property, but every acre of land within a radius of five miles will depreciate at least five dollars, if the college is removed. And on the other hand, the college should not be removed unless the inducements to remove it are sufficient to compensate for the loss the institution will sustain by being taken to some other point. Jefferson College, in any other place, will no longer be the Jefferson College of old, whose record is as brilliant as any in the land, and whose fame is world wide. It is a long established fact that the success of any institution of learning depends to a greater or less extent upon the interest manifested in it by its Alumni, and should the College be removed from Canonsburg it must be conceded that it will, to a certain extent, lose the influence of the Alumni of Jefferson College, which is, perhaps, as large as that of any other institution in the country. Yet, if the citizens of any other locality will contribute a sufficient amount of money to compensate for this loss, there is no reason why the institution should not be removed. It is money the institution wants, and money it must have, or it will perish.

Lambeth College.

KITTANNING, August 6, 1868.

MESSRS. EDITORS: A change has recently taken place in the control of one of our educational institutions which will doubtless prove of interest to some of your readers. The Kittanning Collegiate School has been re-organized on what is termed a church basis, and is to be incorporated, with full academic powers, as Lambeth College. Episcopalians will at once understand the significance of the name which has been adopted. It is a fitting response, from the heart of this diocese, to the memorable fact the name is suggestive of.

The above change has been made, by the friends of the institution, from purely disinterested motives, and with a view solely to the greater permanence and usefulness of the School. And they feel that every effort of theirs, in this direction, will be well applied, if that measure of sympathy and cooperation which they have a right to expect will be duly manifested by churchmen in general. As a preparatory school the institution has done, and will continue to do, its work conscientiously and thoroughly; but it is the purpose of its founders that, if energy, liberality and self-sacrifice can accomplish the desired end, the name adopted by faith shall not be dishonored, ultimately, even by the literary character of Lambeth College. ECCLESIA.

Same day six mortgages were filed of record.

The Fire-Standard for Oil.

The following important amendment of an "Act to amend existing laws relating to internal revenue and other purposes" it would be well for parties interested to make a note of. The section reads as follows:

SEC. 29. And be it further enacted, That no person shall mix for sale naptha, and illuminating oils, or shall knowingly sell or keep for sale or offer for sale such mixture, or shall sell or offer for sale, oil made from petroleum, for illuminating purposes, inflammable at less temperature or fire test than one hundred and ten degrees Fahrenheit; and any person so doing shall be held to be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof by indictment or presentment in any court of the United States having competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and by imprisonment for a term of not less than six months nor more than three years.

—It is reported from Sedalia, Missouri, that the Sheriff of Benton county, with the assistance of his brother and one or two other men, attempted on the first inst. to arrest several desperadoes known to belong to the Ku-Kluk-Klan. The Sheriff, his brother and another assistant were killed, and the desperadoes escaped.

—General Butler announces himself a candidate for re-election to Congress. There will be a powerful influence brought not only to defeat his election but to prevent his nomination by the Republican Convention. His rival will be General Wm. Schouler, whom Butler had removed from the Adjutant General's Office at Boston.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

TWICE LOST.

BY DEXTER SMITH.

Once, through the busy street,
We went with hurried feet,—
Asked those we chanced to meet
Of our lost darling;
Heeding not wind or rain,
Searching each street and lane,
Peering through window-pane,
For our lost darling.

We found our lost one then,
Brought her safe home again,
In from the falling rain,
Our little darling;
Once more her tears she dries,
Once more a sweet smile lies
In the bright, sunny eyes
Of our own darling.

To God's own will we bow;—
We've lost our loved one now:
Death's hand is on the brow
Of our lost darling;
Now, baby's gone at last,
Safe from the wintry blast,
All of Life's sorrows past—
Slumbers our darling.

Angels have found our prize,
Borne her to brighter skies;
What though from our eyes she dies?
Still lives our darling;
We may not find her here,
Yet, in a brighter sphere,
Freed from all sin and fear,
We'll find our darling!

—The scenes on the beach at Long Branch are thus described: "Out of the bathing house issues a portly gent in bloomer robes; placidly surveys the crowd, sees that his garments are secured against any chance accident, locks his door, and with a stately, solemn tread, as though bearing the responsibilities of a nation, he boldly marches to the water's edge, grasps the rope and bravely steps into the deep. Here comes a younger individual, a "swell" the night before, the reverse now. He walks toward his lady friends and sits down for a chat, talks about swimming, etc., and finally rises and walks up to his knees. Here he shivers awhile, until, taken unawares, he is wet by a breaker, when he sputters and dips and makes his bath. Next comes the bold and practiced swimmer. Starting on a run he dives into the first wave and swims around to his own satisfaction. Here comes a lady probably, though where all dress alike it is difficult to distinguish. She walks to the water and carefully wets her head, then bobbing up and down she proceeds inch by inch to where the water is waist high, and there she remains. Many other classes are represented; the father of a family who bathes his little flock as farmers do sheep, i. e., without wetting themselves; the belle of the night before, who comes skipping along with some gentleman friend, and shrieking as though suffering countless torments, she permits herself to be led into the water. Some of the ladies are very courageous and good swimmers, but many go only to improve their lungs."

A Notice from Mark Twain.

[From the San Francisco News.]

MESSRS. EDITORS: I was expecting to sail from New York in the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's steamer of the 18th of June, but unforseen circumstances compel a delay of a few days. I cannot sail until the 30th of the month. It is therefore proposed that I should give this notice to those friends who have intrusted articles to my care for delivery to their relatives in the Atlantic states, so that they can send by parties who sail on the 18th such of them as demand expedition. I will give a list of the things I am speaking of, and those which will admit of delay until the 30th can remain in my posession: 3 violins, 1 double-barreled gun, 1 package books, 1 do. sheet music—negro ballads, 1 set casters—vinegar cruet missing, 2 scratch wigs, for repair, 1 women, 7 boxes and 1 barrel ore specimens. 1 amalgamating pan, for repair; 1 parrot, 1 pup, 1 cage of canaries—two dead, another woman, 18 mining company prospectuses—marked "please circulate, 1 valise—appears to be nothing in it, 6 photographs—consigned to different parties, 1 volume Tennyson, 2 white women, 1 box salve, 2 accordeons, 1 overcoat, 1 set chessmen, 1 cow, 1 sandlewood fan, 1 rosewood dressing case, 4 meerschaum pipes, 5 specimen pins, some grass widows, 1 Hoe steam press for repairs, 1 unabridged dictionary, 2 bandboxes, 1 lunatic for asylum, 1 idiot for Paris, 1 gridiron, 1 baby, 68 letters, 1 package gold coin, 1 do. greenbacks, 23 trunks, another woman.

Besides these articles, I have to carry along a valise for myself, and a jug, and I may be discommoded unless some of my things go by the steamer of the 18th. The baby is not well, and appears to get worse all the time. I think may be it has got the mumps, or, the consumption, or something of that kind. These are things I do not know anything about. It must be one of those, because I have doctored for fits and measles, and all these things, but still she grows worse.

She had better go by the steamer of the 18th. I do not think she will keep for the 30th. To tell the plain truth, I am sorry I agreed to take this baby along. A baby is too troublesome—altogether too troublesome. I have had a baby at sea, and I know. Once I had two twins on a ship, and I never suffered so much in my life. Please come and get this one, and ship it on the 18th.

Most of the other articles had better go at the same time, especially the cow and the idiot. If I were relieved of those I could take some more women, and may be another trunk or two. MARK TWAIN.

A Mutiny Quelled by an Elephant.

Recently a fine specimen of the Asiatic elephant was landed at Southampton, England, and purchased by Mr. A. Fairgrieve, the acting proprietor of the Queen's Menagerie. It was shipped at Bombay, and was under the charge of a Sumatrian named Ramee Jhan deegga (familiarly known on board as "Ramy" to whom the elephant was particularly attached, and who had brought the huge brute under perfect subjection. During the first few days after the ship had cleared the land every thing went on perfectly satisfactorily, but, unfortunately, heavy weather coming on, a spirit of insubordination was displayed by the crew. The would be mutineers assembled together one evening near the wheelhouse on the main deck, close to where the elephant was chained, and held council as to their future proceedings. The keeper, Ramy, lying at the side of the animal, feigned sleep, although he paid no attention to what the disaffected spirits were saying, heard the whole details of a most diabolical plot to murder the captain and a greater portion of the crew and passengers, and he ascertained that he (Ramy) was one of the selected ones who were thus appointed to be ruthlessly massacred.

The onslaught was to be made when the watch was changed that night. No time was to be lost in warning the captain of the danger, but it was impossible for Ramy to proceed to the state cabin without incurring the greatest risk, inasmuch as he would have been compelled to pass through the midst of the plotting rascals, and they would certainly not have scrupled in effectually silencing on the spot one whom they had themselves selected for slaughter. The wily keeper, however, took a wiser course, and as it eventually turned out, a very serviceable one. Noiselessly unfastening the chain which bound the elephants forelegs, Ramy set the animal at liberty, and, springing to his feet in an instant, he bounded into the midst of the mutineers, followed by the elephant. Giving a signal to the intelligent brute, it laid about it right and left with its trunk, and the astonished sailors were quickly prostrated on the deck, wounded and bleeding, and shouting loudly for mercy. The captain, hearing the disturbance, was quickly on the spot, and, having been made acquainted with the facts of the case, caused the mutineers to be put in irons, to be dealt with at the first port at which they touched. The wounds caused by the animals trunk were somewhat fearful.

A Grumble.

The lighter drinks of America—it is a mistake to suppose that they are always strong and intoxicating—are unknown in a country where warm beer satisfies the longings of most "thirsty souls." We cannot get ice fit to use from our English ponds, but the article is not so difficult to obtain as to excuse the barbarism of hotel-keepers and others sending tepid water to their guests to drink. Few Londoners have an idea of the miseries which people are called upon to endure who are obliged to stay in London hotels. They are fleeced in the most shameless manner. The bill for a gentleman and his daughter staying one week at a West End hotel—a very inferior hotel, although presenting an imposing appearance to the passer-by—was lately £32 3s. The wines used had only cost £1 of this sum, and the total was swelled by enormous charges for every trifling article used. A few morsels of ice were sent up when specially asked for, and from 6d. to 9d. a day was charged for them. We doubt whether there is a first-rate capitol in the world where so much extortion is practiced and so little comfort given, as in the great hotels which have been opened of late years. Is it any wonder that so many strangers return with anything but pleasant recollections of London?—[Pall Mall Gazette.

A Japanese Hero.

There is a story current among the Japanese which excites their warmest admiration. It is told of Aidzu, the hero of the Tycoon's party, and who is deemed by all natives to be the bravest prince in the Empire:

"A short time since he was attacked in his own stronghold by a large force of Satsuma's men. After some days' fighting with uncertain result, the latter demanded a truce that they might go and replenish their commissariat, as they had come to the end of their provisions, but promising to return and continue the fight. Aidzu replied that there was no need for them to retire, as he would supply their wants; and accordingly sent them a plentiful supply of rice, sufficient for several days. Already a hero in their eyes, this act almost deified him. The effect on his assailants seems to have been prodigious and to have given to the leaders an idea of the invincibility of such a man. They left without striking another blow."

RIVER NEWS.

The weather continues cloudy and unsettled, ane last evening there was every appearance of rain. The river continues to recede steadily with but three feet in the channel.

Business is completely suspeneded at the main landing, not a single boat making the slightest pretension to business.

—The Camelia and Ida Rees are due here to-morrow from Cincinnati.

—The Charmer, on her way from St. Louis, has on her barge 400 bales hemp for Louisville.

—The J. N. McCullough, was advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday evening.

—When the Ruth returns to St. Louis, from New Orleans she will be slightly altered, and will probably run between Memphis and New Orleans.

—The Vicksburg Times, of Saturday, says: Two hundred thousand feet of lumber are on the levee, and will be shipped by the Louisville to-day, this steamer having changed her destination from Louisvill to St. Louis in order to take it. Hereafter we will have two packets a week to St. Louis, which will enable the merchants to ship this article regularly and without detention.

—We quote from the U. S. records as follows: July 31st, the St. Louis and Quincy Packet company steamers Tom Jasper for $60,000; Mollie McPike for $15,000, and Victory for $10,000, and wharfboat at St. Louis for $10,000. A considerable amount of the total sum was paid for by an exchange of stocks. We learn that the opposition to the old Keokuk line will continue as lively as ever:

—The Cincinnati Enquirer is responsible for the following:

A well-known Pittsburgh steamboatman remarked yesterday, as illustrating the extraordinary dullness of the past year, that but two boats running to and from that port have made enough money to pay their insurance, and for the usual annual coat of paint which every boat requires. One of these two was the Kate Robinson.

—The New York Evening Post gives the following description of an immense raft: A raft of 700,000 feet of lumber, towed by the steamer Hills, passed up the bay, and through the East river and Sound this week. The lumber came from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and was taken to Dutch Point, near Hartford. The raft was sixty-five feet wide and about 500 feet long, and was one of the longest that has ever passed this city.

—A canal boat, propelled on a new principle, has been placed on the Erie canal, and attracts some attention. The propelling power is a wheel in the center of the boat which is arranged something like the driving wheels of a mowing machine. The wheel rests upon the bottom of the canal, and is fixed upon a frame which allows it to rise and fall according to the depth of the water. The speed is about twice as much as by towing. The boat creates no swell, and from the shore it was impossible to tell where the motive power was applied.

River and Weather.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, August 7.—The river is swelling slowly, with five feet four inches in the canal by mark. Weather cloudy and warm.

ST. LOUIS, August 4.—Weatherr clear and warm.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 147¼@147⅜.

HON. LEWIS W. HALL and COL. FRANCIS JORDAN have formed a law partnership at Harrisburg, where both of them will hence-forward permanently reside.

THE telegraphic reports are positive in stating the occurrence of several cases of cholera in New York yesterday. It is not, however, believed that there exists any substantial ground for apprehending the appearance of the disease as an epidemic.

ANOTHER submerged railway train, happily without fatal results, at the same sadly historic Norwalk draw-bridge, proves that no sufficient precautions have yet been devised by these corporations, for the protection of the lives and property of citizens.

THE Republicans of Franklin county have instructed Conferees to support CAPT. JOHN WALKER for Assembly, COL. W. P. DIXON for Senate, and HON. JOHN CESSNA for Congress. The Democrats have instructed for C. B. F. WINGER for Assembly, HON. C. F. DUNCAN for Senate, and HON. F. M. KIMMEL for Congress.

IT IS SAID that BLAIR attached himself, like a leech, to the party with Gen. GRANT, at Fort Laramie two weeks since, adhering to his old commander at all the stations down the road and back to Omaha. He was shrewd enough to see that in that way he could secure some share of the popular notice—and he had the cheek to do it.

THE HON E. M. STANTON is entering earnestly into the canvass. In addition to his engagements to speak which we have heretofore chronicled, he is announced to address a GRANT and COLFAX meeting at Chicago on the 12th inst. Why don't our City or County Committee invite him to address his old friends and neighbors of this vicinage?

COMMISSIONER ROLLINS, of the Revenue Bureau, still retains his place, his resignation being conditioned upon the designation of a "suitable" name for the succession. It is to be regretted that he has found it needful to retire. It is also much and generally regretted that ex-Gov. Cox declined to accept the succession. Doubts have been expressed as to the legality of the conditional resignation, but, in view of the peculiar reasons impelling the President to secure a more perfect control of the office and its patronage, and of his natural anxiety to solve the present imbroglio, it must be conceded that Mr. ROLLINS is fortified in a very strong prima facia case, to be able to hold Mr. JOHNSON so long at bay. No reliance is to be placed upon the sensational rumors which alternately quote the Attorney General on each side of the legal question. His opinion will speak for itself when public.

GEN. CARL SCHURZ.

MR. GALUSHA A. GROW, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, sends word that Gen. SCHURZ will speak in this city on the 24th of the present month, and not on the 25th, as heretofore announced.

THE TWENTY-FOURTH DISTRICT.

Yesterday the Republican Conferees for the Twenty-Fourth district of this State unanimously nominated Capt. Jos. BENTON DONLY as the successor of Mr. GEO. V. LAWRENCE.

Mr. DONLY was born in Mount Morris, Greene county, and is about thirty years old. He comes of an old Democratic family. His father served two years in the Legislature, elected by Democrats.

Young DONLY graduated at Washington College in 1859. Shortly afterward he took up his residence in Illinois. In 1860 he deposited his first vote, and it was for ABRAHAM LINCOLN for President. In 1862 he entered as a private in the Eighty-third Regiment of Illinois Infantry, and served for three years in the Army of the Cumberland, rising to the rank of Captian. After being mustered out of service, he entered the Albany Law School, graduating in 1866, when he returned to Mount Morris and commenced the practice of the legal profession. He was soon appointed Register in Bankruptcy, which office he now holds.

He is a man of excellent natural capacities, of more than ordinary executive abilities, and is withal a good speaker. The Republicans of the Twenty-fourth District have made a fortunate selection. They now owe it to him, to themselves, and to the cause, to go earnestly to work and secure his triumphant election.

NATURALIZATION—CAUTION.

Republican Vigilance Committees are reminded that, while past experience teaches us that our opponents clearly intend to rely in October, in a great degree, upon their old game of forged naturalization papers, with which, by the aid of wholesale bribery and a murder or two, they contrived to figure up a small majority for SHARSWOOD last year, they are not expected to abandon entirely their previous mode of operations, in the fraudulent evasion of the laws of Congress. These old frauds were perpetrated under two defective provisions of the statutes, the first of which authorizes the declaration of intention to be made before the Clerk, instead of in the Court itself, and the second authorizes the final papers to be issued without that previous declaration, if the applicant came in before the end of his eighteenth year, and remained for five years consecutively, intending three years of these five to become a citizen. Under this clause, no witnesses are required except as to this last intention, and that the applicant is a moral and well disposed citizen. It is on these points that our friends will do well to watch the opposition. Look out sharp for forged certificates from Clerks, and for all cases of applicants claiming to have arrived before their majority, and when you see one or two men constantly relied upon as standing witnesses to the identity of a large number of applicants, you will be very apt, on investigation, to find something wrong. Let our friends bear this caution in mind!

THE CATTLE DISEASE.

The Chicago papers print a "report of progress" from a Commission appointed some time since to investigate the "cattle-disease," then and since prevailing among the native stock of Illinois. The Republican summarizes the report as follows:

1. The malady follows the track of Texan cattle, and is not found elsewhere—is not a plague or epizootic.
2. The Texan cattle which communicate the disease are themselves healthy.
5. Native cattle affected with this disease do not communicate it to other native cattle.
4. There is not the slightest danger of evil from drinking the milk of a diseased cow, and Prof. Gamgee says he should have no scruples in eating the flesh. These animals are not, he says, poisoned by any specific virus calculated to do injury to man or animals.
5. The disease is classed in Europe as among the forms of fevers which originate spontaneously where there is sufficient heat or ill-drained retentive solis.
6. Texas cattle imported here from the 15th of September to the 15th of April induce no disease.

We do not learn much that is new from this verbal report and these opinions of Prof. Gamgee. True, it is a report of progress. The Commission has again returned to its researches. Prof. Gamgee now goes as the agent of the Department of Agriculture of the United States, having received a special commission from Hon. Horace Capron, Commissioner of Agriculture, to investigate this disease. The Illinois State Agricultural Society has also appointed a Commission with the same object. So light is to be had concerning the origin and nature of the disease, we are likely to get it.

Mr. Richardson, another member of the Commission, believes the disease to be of such a character that when a complete knowledge of it is had, this class of (Texas) stock can be handled with perfect safety under proper management and regulations. But he advises the adoption of measures to keep these Texan cattle isolated from all other stock, and to cease moving them for the present, though he has little doubt that all the injury that can be done by the most of them has already been done.

The Chicago journals unite in hesitating to accept the assurances of the perfect safety with which the milk or flesh of the affected stock may be partaken of. They also renew their demand for the enforcement of the State law against dealing in the Texas or the native infected stock. As the stock which has died in our East Liberty yards was of the latter description, and brought from Illinois, an inquiry is suggested as to the liability under the statute of the dealers who have shipped it from that State hither.

THE telegraph and mails multiply daily, and with daily increasing minuteness, the reports of outrage and murder which attest the fructification of the rebel Democratic plots to overawe and, if need be, to exterminate all Union sentiment among the Southern people. The principles of SEYMOUR and BLAIR, interpreted by the rebel delegates who framed them into the Democratic platform, are bearing their natural fruit all over the South. From Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana and the entire Gulf border, we have the same story of violence. The Democracy have entered with fire and sword upon another secession crusade. Already, the Governor of one State has appealed for Federal aid to enforce the laws, and the authorities of other States are about to follow his example. The President hesitates. His heart is not in his plain duty, however his wholesome fears of official responsibility may direct him. Mr. BUCHANAN temporized, and perilled all by his timidity, but the present Executive seems inclined to challenge the obligations of the plain letter of the law. The crisis, which must decide his action, is not far off.

REHABILITATION OF AUSTRIA.

At the close of the recent campaign conducted by Prussia against Austria, it was apparent to all careful observers of national growth and decay that the latter power had in fact ceased to be Germanic, and would soon betray consciousness of the change that had come over its condition by adapting its policy to its altered fortunes. In the true sense, no longer Germanic, the only hopeful course open to it was to become Slavonic, and strive to build up a homogeneous and powerful monarchy by consolidating what might ultimately remain of the old provinces, and seeking compensations for past and prospective losses of territory and population by acquisitions extending in the easterly direction.

The lapse of a few months sufficed to show that the Austrian Emperor and Cabinet comprehended the situation and were determined to make the best of it that they could. Then came that series of measures, dictated by the exigencies of the case, which aroused the displeasure of the Pope and received his formal condemnation. That Austria should fall under Papal malediction was in itself suggestive of great changes in the condition and sentiments of the monarchy; but that the censures of Rome should produce no backward movement, but rather quicken the changes previously begun, afforded conclusive evidence that Catholicism was not the religion of the bulk of the people remaining under the Austrian sceptre, nor of the people whom it was resolved to bring under its sway.

In consequence of these general considerations the announcement, made a few days ago, that Austria had disappeared from the map of Europe, and that a new Austro-Hungarian Empire had appeared thereon, created no surprise. The shadow of the event ran so far before it as to prepare public expectation for its coming.

During the present week a public meeting was held in Vienna, at which speeches were made and resolutions passed, deploring the practical exclusion of the German provinces of the Austrian Empire from their hereditary relations with the Fatherland. But to arrive at the real meaning of this demonstration it is requisite to understand that those who participated in the proceedings were avowed Democrats, and necessarily confined their declarations within the limits prescribed by a sound discretion. What they had to be mindful of was the necessity of not exposing themselves to prosecution for incivism.

No student of history has for a moment entertained the thought that the German provinces of Austria could be permanently sundered from their natural connection, and incorporated into a nationality pre-eminently Slavonic. An effort to that end may succeed for a brief period, until circumstances arise favorable to a change of political relations; when the change will be sure to occur.

The public meeting already mentioned may, therefore, be regarded as symptomatic of the feeling generally prevailing throughout the German provinces of Austria. The masses of the population of these provinces do not mean to be absorbed by a Slavonic nationality, having principles, instincts and tendencies in which they do not partake, and having a destiny to run, if it shall run at all, which is alien to their ambition.

Nor do we regard this, or any like manifestations of discontent among the German subjects of Austria, as prejudicial to that monarchy. As it has in reality ceased to be a German power, the sooner it relinquishes all semblance thereto the better for itself, and for the peace and progress of Europe.

—It may as well be stated in this connection that the Pope seems to recede from his position on the Austrian question. BARON VON BUEST's prompt reply that he was going beyond his sphere in meddling with Austrian affairs, met with applause all over the world. PIUS IX, it is now affirmed by the Memorial Diplomatique, is preparing a memorandum to the effect that he only meant that the recent laws in violation of the Concordat were oppugnant to the Catholic dogmas, and not at all to arrogate the right to interfere in the affairs of that State. This would be a great stride in the right direction. Nobody objects to the Pope giving his opinion as to what does or does not comport with the dogmas of his church. His meddling in the political affairs of nations is a very different matter. If the Pope shall indeed issue such a memorandum it may well be taken as the most substantial triumph yet achieved by "reason" over "authority."

THE Charleston Mercury says:

Private advices from our most strenuous friends at the North, request that we should protest against the imprudent expressions that have escaped some Southern speakers since the adjournment of the National Democratic convention. It is represented to us that great injury is accruing to the cause from such imprudence. We, therefore, shall make no apologies for asking the attention of our public speakers to the fact. What we want just now is to win. Let us keep our powder for that purpose. Too much is at stake to waste it now in ex ua de joie. Let us have our pyrotechnics next March.

This warning reached the South too late. The leading men and journals, before the admonition arrived, had let off all they felt and proposed.

But, mark! it is not said that Northern Democratic leaders are, in point of fact, opposed to the opinions they would abate; only that they think the promulgation of them, just now, to be injudicious.

This caution, sent Southward, doubtless explains why Mr. SEYMOUR's letter of acceptance was keyed on a much more moderate note than Mr. BLAIR's. The people had taken alarm; and it was resolved, as a piece of strategy, not to shock them further until after the election.

THE New York Journal of Commerce foreshadows what many conservative Democrats intend to do, as follows:

We suggested a platform upon which every thoughtful man, every good citizen of whatever party, could have planted himself without reproach. Had the July Convention adopted this in its main features, and passing by all party hacks and ultra demagogues, nominated on th issue thus presented two s und conservative Democrats, whose names brought up no bitt r memories and suggested no allusion to former party feuds, the ticket would have been elected by n overwhelming majority. To this end we contributed what we could, but not being in the council of either party, we had no control of the politic machinery by which the wires are usually manipulat d, and our efforts were unsuccessful. * * * * We shall not be surprised if the proportion of those who actually refrain from voting should be of itself beyond all former precedent. * * * * * It might have been far otherwise if there had been virtue and decision enough among those who are directly responsible for the action of the Convention.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The National Camp Meeting at Manheim, near Lancaster, Pa., was a remarkable one in many respects. We group a few items taken from a communication of nearly three columns in the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, describing this meeting. The regular congregation numbered from three to five thousand, and on Sabbath morning, when Bishop Simpson preached, there were not less than twenty thousand people present. Over three hundred and fifty Methodist ministers were on the ground at different times during the meeting—thirty-one belonging to a sister denomination. Presbyterians, Lutherans and Quakers bore testimony to the higher life of faith. There were also many eminent female laborers from different parts of the country. Several of these "elect ladies" spoke at the Experience meetings with thrilling effect. At the Experience meeting Sunday morning four hundred and eighty spoke in eighty minutes. These testimonies were laconic, sharp and pointed. Some of them in the following words: "I am wholly and sweetly saved." "My way is clear." "I stand complete in Christ." "I live by faith in the Son of God." "Jesus is my all sufficient Saviour." "I have confessed, and he does cleanse." "My hallowed Lord hath wrought a perfect cure." "I have been in the pool." "I have full redemption." "I enjoy a clear witness that I am fully saved." "I have unutterably glory in my heart." These are but a tithe of the testimonies. We give one more, One soul, with great beauty and sweetness, said: "A party of ladies agreed to be photographed in a group, and I was the center figure; when the picture was completed my image was blurred, and the reason assigned was that I did not stand still. Paul says, 'Be not moved away from the hope of the Gospel.' That hope is 'the blood of Jesus cleanses from all sin.' There I stand, I dare not move."

It has been ascertained that the total number of locations in the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the past year, was seventy, and of deaths eighty-three; total loss from these sourcee, one hundred and fifty-three. The number of Ministers admitted on trial in the same time was six-hundred and seventy-six, making a net gain of five hundred and forty-three.

The venerable Senior Bishop Morris, in a brief address at the Erie Conference, held last month at Warren, Ohio, in behalf of the Freedmen, narrated the following anecdote. A colored local preacher, in speaking in speaking of the Temptation, said: "Had Satan made me such offers, I should have said, 'Sah, I can't see it,' as our lubbed Savior did. I should have said, 'Now, Mr. Satan, ef you pleathe, advance free paces to de rear, and take yourself off. Forward, march!'"

The Universe (Catholic,) of Philadelphia, after announcing the confirmation of General Rosencrans as United States Minister to Mexico, jubilantly says: After a short time we shall have Catholics enough both to send to the high places abroad and to place in the stately places at home.

Rev. Rowland [illegible], who resigned his place as colleague pastor with Dr. Miner, in School street, Boston, in consequence of the senior pastor's disapproval of his sentiments, and organized "The Fraternal Association of Universalists," is in trouble again. The more religion part of the flock desired to continue the communion service, which he complied in so far as to continue the custom once a year in a novel way. The conservatives have just withdrawn, including twenty-five of the thirty-two Sunday School teachers, and organized what they call the "Goddard Society," in honor of Thomas A. Goddard, lately deceased.

Open air preaching, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, at the Washington parade-ground, New York, was inaugurated some weeks ago. From the absence of any clerical titles, to the names of those who officiated, we presume the matter is wholly in the hands of laymen. At the fourth Sunday of the series, Mr. Richard Morse, Chairman of the Committee, opened the meeting with a discourse upon the text, "As the heart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after God." Two other laymen followed with brief discources. Praying and singing alternated with the discources.

The Board of Directors of the Congregationalist Church Educational Society made appropriations last year to two hundred and forty-four young men connected with twenty-nine colleges and Theological schools. The question of assisting hereafter young students in Presbyterian seminaries was discussed. During the financial year the Society assisted thirty-eight Congregationalists in Union Theological Seminary, New York city. It is expected a change of policy will be made at no distant date.

Our Southern brethren, even in religious movements, show their "cloven-feet," to persons whom they denominate Northern Radicals. At the late Missouri State Sunday School Convention, held at Palmyra, about the locality where Gens. Grant and Sherman were shabbily treated recently, a Southern Methodist minister called upon a prominent member of the Convention to know who was to be the President of the Convention, as the action of all the Southern people of Palmyra would be governed by the choice of the person to fill that office. Mr. Stanard was named, a prominent Northern Methodist layman of St. Louis, and was chosen President. The Southern people refused to enter the house, and the Chairman on Entertainment was flooded with notes from persons who had promised to entertain delegates informing him that the delegates from St. Louis, being Radicals and Abolitionists, there company would be offensive. He must not pollute their houses with such creatures. The Convention was held and was a decided success.

The Old School Presbytery of Baltimore, have appointed a Committee to give "temporary license" to laymen, to exercise their gifts as preachers; and the Fifth Baptist Church in Phitadelphia have voted to approve such of its brethren "as may, under the advice of the pastor, publicly proclaim and enforce the gospel," as they may have opportunity.

One of the Representatives from South Carolina, Rev. Mr. Wittemore, was formerly a New England minister. He is one of the truest men and happily united Massachusetts and Carolina in his blood and station.

The National Conference of Unitarians and Liberal Christians will be held in New York city on the 6th, 7th and 8th of October.

Rev. John Marsh, D, D., the distinguished temperance advocate and editor of works of this character, died at Brooklyn, on Tuesday, the 4th inst. He was an earnest and devoted Christian minister.

The Northwestern Christian Advocate in speaking of the grand reception tendered to Speaker Colfax at Chicago, en route for his home at South Bend, Indiana, says it was an ovation of which all Mr. Colfax's friends may well be proud. But the chief animus, and the chiefest charm of the reception was the personal, live, deep respect and enduring confidence evinced for the man who has been, in the fear of God, true to his race and country. We heartily wish, says the Advocate, that all public servants were as worthy as Mr. Colfax. Aside from all party questions, we believe him worthy of any position within the people's gift.

The Death of Father Spalding.

Our dispatches have already mentioned the fearful death of Father B. J. Spalding at Louisville. The Courier of that city gives the following additional particulars:

It has been the custom of Father Spalding to keep a gas-light, with a sliding tube, burning in his bed-room over night. It seems that at about one o'clock yesterday morning the tube slipped down and came in contact with the musquito bar. In a few moments the bed clothing caught, and when Father Spalding awoke his night clothes were in flames. He managed to extinguish the fire on his person, but not till his flesh was shockingly burned. In his terrible agony, he rushed into his bath-room adjoining, and bathed in cold water, which had the effect of intensifying his sufferings. Father Bonchet, hearing his groans, hastened to the room and found the bed clothing burning rapidly. He at once threw them out of the window and checked the fire. Father Spalding's night clothes were burnt nearly off him, and he was writhing in agony. He was wrapped in a sheet and medical aid promptly summoned, but before the arrival of the doctors he became frantic with pain, and a second time immersed himself in the bath tub. On the arrival of the physicians the proper remedies were applied for his relief, but to no purpose. He lingered in great agony until six o'clock last evening, when death relieved him of his suffering. His resort to water no doubt caused the fatal result.

THE New York Tribune says: Assuming that the ten States recently unrepresented in Congress have a population of eight millions, that population is politically divided very nearly as follows:

White Rep.....1,000,000	White Dem.....3,500,000
Colored do.....3,250,000	Colored do.....250,000
Total.....4,250,000	Total.....3,750,000

THE Elmira Gazette, the only Democratic daily paper in Chemung county, New York, declares that Horatio Seymour cannot and should not be elected, and accordingly runs up the Republican nominees.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Liniments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should t once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

Diuretic or Backache Pills

Can be relied on for these purposes; they have a direct influence on the cells of the kidneys, assists nature in relieving them of any foreign particles, and mulates them to a healthy and vigorous action

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Contain nothing injurious, being composed of entirely vegetable remedies; they do not sicken nor gripe—on the contrary they act as a gentle tonic and restores tone to the system, They are recommended by all who who have tried them.

THE BILIOUS SEASON.

Seventy-five per cent. of the population of the United States are more or less bilious at this season. The midsummer sun stirs up the bile as certainly as it evolves miasma from the stagnant pools. It is of the u most importance, therefore, to check the tendency of the liver to diseased action with that incomparable anti-bilious specific—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Neglect the early symptoms, and the chances are that they will result in remittent fever, fever and ague, or jaundice. It is presumed that nobody deliberately desires to risk an attack from any one of these. But carelessness may be as disastrous as temerity. Do not procrastinate. As health is the greatest of earthly blessings, it should be every rational being s first care. Whoever chooses to use HOSTETTER'S BITTERS as a preventive now may escape the bilious epidemic and endemics which so generally prevail toward the close of the heated term and in the fall months. Is it not worth while to be forearmed when the means of defence are within the reach of all? The BITTERS are a NATIONAL REMEDY everywhere procurable, and endorsed by the intelligent of every class Read what leading members of the community, clergymen, physicians, authors, statesmen, men of science, artists, travelers and distinguished soldiers, say about them. On the strength of these credentials give them a trial. They will be found the very best anti bilious medicine that modern pharmacy has introduced.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculiar mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

THE ANTI-TORNADO RAILROAD BRIDGE

Is eminently adapted for our large western rivers, with spans of 550 feet, 80 feet above low water. It will resist the strongest winds, hurricanes, and the heaviest loaded trains will not affect it. I made the discovery on the 25th of June last. A model 6 feet long I exhibit, and give specification on its principles to all parties who take an interest in bridges, and charge 25 cents.

HYDRAULIC

COW-MILKER.

WANTED—IMMEDIATELY—All who are looking for business to call and examine the Hydraulic Cow-Milker.

"A sure cure for aching hands and kicking cows." It milks the four teats of a cow at once. It imitates the calf draw, and stops drawing to swallow. It will milk any cow perfectly dry in three minutes. It is operated by hand, dog, horse or other power. One man can attend several machines, milking as many cows at once. It is simple, durable and self-adjusting; will fit any cow. Milks three-teated cows as well as any. Easily worked, not liable to get out of order, and has proven by practical use to be more agreeable to the cow than hand-milking. A rare opportunity is now offered to enterprising men either to travel or locate in city or country. Call and examine for yourselves.

CITY CONVENTION.

The Republicans of the City of Pittsburgh are hereby invited to attend Primary Meetings in their respective Wards on SATURDAY, August 15th, 1868,

Between the hours of 3 and 7 P. M., and there vote for candidates to be placed in nomination for the several city offices, viz:

One person for Mayor of said city.
One person for Controller of said city.
One person for Treasurer of said city.

The voting at said meetings will be by printed or written ballots, containing the names of the candidates voted for, each office on a ticket by itself, and the elections, as far as practicable, will be conducted in accordance with the laws and usages regulating State, county and city elections, the officers taking care to keep a correct list of all persons voting thereat.

The elections will be conducted, wherever it can be done, by the Republican election officers chosen at the last city election: and in wards where no such officers were chosen, the officers to conduct the election have been designated, as hereinafter mentioned, by the City Committee.

The Committee suggest that the officers thus designated to hold this election shall voluntarily take the usual affidavit administered to election officers under the laws of the State, so as to shut out all cause of complaint.

The election in the First and Second Wards will be held at the Public School Houses in said wards.

In the Third Ward at the southeastern corner of Sixth and Smithfield streets.

In the Fourth Ward at the Public School House.

In the Fifth Ward in the office of the Clerk of the Orphans' Court, at the Court House, under the supervision of W. B. Negley, George Glass and R. J. Smith, who are appointed the Board to hold said election.

In the Sixth Ward at the Public School House.

In the Seventh Ward at the Public School House.

In the Eighth Ward at the house of Henry Wilson.

In the Ninth Ward at the Public School House.

In the Tenth Ward at the house of Wm. Brown, at the corner of Penn and Mechanics streets.

In the Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Seventeenth Wards, at the usual places of holding elections in said wards.

In the Sixteenth Ward at the Wigwam, corner of Pearl and Main streets, under the supervision of Noah G. Craig, Roland Smith and John C. Stewart.

In the Eighteenth Ward at the place of holding elections for what was heretofore known as the 2d precinct of Collins township, under the supervision of David Jones, David Holmes and David Kirk.

In the Nineteenth Ward at Joseph Ganster's house on the Greensburg turnpike, under the supervision of John N. Berlin, Wm. H. Morrison and James Joyce.

In the Twentieth Ward at Beitler's School House, under the supervision of Wm. H. Denniston, Geo. F. Rahauser and John R. Baum.

In the Twenty-first Ward at Ross' School House, under the supervision of A. J. Woolslayer, S. B. Ross and R. W. Morgan.

In the Twenty-second Ward at Irwin's School House, under the supervision of John R. Murdock, William Irwin and Randal Morton.

In the Twenty-third ward at the usual place for holding elections in late Peebles township, under the supervision of Joseph Boals, James B. Palmer and James McKibben.

Every supporter of GRANT and COLFAX and the city nominees is earnestly invited to take part in said election, and none other; and the election officers are hereby respectfully urged to use all possible diligence to preserve the purity of the ballot box, and secure a fair return of the votes cast.

The election officers, after the votes are counted, will make up duplicate returns thereof, one of which, with the list of voters, shall be placed in the ballot boxes, and the other taken possession of by the Return Judge; and the Return Judges of the several wards shall present the same at a meeting of Return Judges, to be held at the Common Council Chamber, on TUESDAY, August 18th, at 10 o'clock A. M., when they shall cause the same to be added together, and declare the result, the person receiving the highest vote for each office to be declared the nominee.

The Return Judges, at their meeting, will appoint the City Executive Committee to serve for the ensuing year.

The Committee desires to call the attention of the Election Boards to the following resolution, which was adopted at the last meeting of the Committee:

Resolved, That we recommend to the officers of the Primary Election the enforcement of all legal rules respecting the qualification of voters at general elections, in addition to the requirement that the voter shall be a known member of the Union Republican Party.

A resolution was also passed authorizing the Election Boards to fill all vacancies occurring in the officers of their respective districts.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 7, 1868.

Gold was a little offish to-day, fluctuating between 147⅛@148, against 148⅛ to 148¾ yesterday. Governments were also weak and a shade lower, though the decline was very slight.

The local money market is moderately easy, and all good borrowers experience but little difficulty in getting all the accomodations they want. The banks are charging about nine per cent; while on the street, rates range all the way from 10 to 15 per cent. per annum according to the standing of the borrower. Bonds and Mortgages are sold at from 10 to 12c. Business generally is dull, though we are in hopes that as the crops will soon commence to move, that an improvement is near at hand.

Columbia Oil Stock keeps pretty stiff, and so far as we can learn there is but little offering. The latest sales ranged from 21½ to 23¼; at the present prices of oil this Company will be able to pay handsome dividends. There is some inqury for Oil Basin, on speculation, with 1¼ bid. This Company is expected to make a good dividend next month, and it is owing to the fact that it has been paying regular quarterly dividends for a year or more, that some parties are wanting to buy, it up. The fact is, all producing companies are stronger, and it is not at all improbable that some of these, which heretofore have been regarded as worthless, may yet get up to par again.

The following are the New York stock quotations as received to-day by Mr. Ph. R. Mertz: Gold 147⅝; 1881 bonds, 115¾; 5-20's '62, 114½; 5-20's, '64, 110¾; 5-20's, '65, 112½; 10-40's, 109; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 108⅝; 5-20's, January and July, '67 108¾; '68, 108⅞; June 7-30's, par less ¼ July 7-30's, do ¼ August 118¾; Sept. 118¼ Oct. 118; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central 103.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 148⅜; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 115¾; 5-20's, 1862, 114½; 5-20's, 1864, 110¾; 5-20's, 1865, 112½; 10-40's, 109; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 108⅝; 5-20's, January and July, '67 108¾; '68, 108⅞; June 7-30's, par less ¼ July 7-30's, do ¼ August 118¾; Sept. 118¼ Oct. 118; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central 103.

—The Financial Chronicle, in commenting on the National Bank Quarterly Statements, says of the money market:

We are far from thinking that during this fall any panic in the money market is to be expected like that which desolated it last spring. Among the safeguards against such a catastrophe we may mention the twenty-five millions of three per cent. certificates recently authorized. These will propably inflate the currency less than was predicted. They will ease the money market and will prevent any disturbance from the payment of the maturing compound notes. As a further indication of the plethora of the loan market we may mention the small increase of loans, which are only twenty-eight millions more than in April, while the deposits increased forty-seven millions. This shows how idle capital is accumulating here, and how difficult it is for our capitalists to lend that capital at remunerative rates. It would be well for the country and render our internal banking machinery more properly adjusted to the wants that machinery has to supply if such a plethora as the present were met by a general sending home of the National Bank notes for redemption. During the summer months the country needs less currency by twenty or thirty millions to do its work. The banks which issue this superfluous currency ought therefore to redeem it and put it out again in the fall when it will be wanted for the exigencies of business. Such a spontaneous and self-regulating method of giving elasticity to the currency, is the great want of our national banking system, and it must inevitably be ere long supplied.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 148⅜; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 115¾; 5-20's, 1862, 114½; 5-20's, 1864, 110¾; 5-20's, 1865, 112½; 10-40's, 109; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 108⅝; 5-20's, January and July, '67 108¾; '68, 108⅞; June 7-30's, par less ¼ July 7-30's, do ¼ August 118¾; Sept. 118¼ Oct. 118; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central 103.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 7, 1868.

The market for Crude was very dull today and compared with yesterday, prices are a shade lower. For instance, spot Oil, which was held firmly yesterday at 14½c, was, we are assured, offered to-day at 14c, without finding takers; and all the year, sellers option, which sold yesterday at 13c, was offered at 12¾c, without finding buyers. We can report 1,000 bbls for August at 14¼c; and 1,000 bbls for September, sellers option, at 14½c. At Oil City, the situation is without important change; we heard of offers to sell at $5,50 delivered on cars, without buyers.

REFINED—The market for Refined oil was also dull and weak to-day, and compared with yesterday, prices have declined fully half a cent. Sale of 500 bbls for August at 34½; and 500 October at 35; later in the day the last half of August sold at 34¼, against 34⅞, yesterday, and September, which sold yesterday at what was considered equal to 36, was offered to-day at 35, without finding takers. "Lines," which sold yesterday at 35 would not command above 34½ to-day; indeed, so far as could learn, the number of sellers were greatly in the preponderance. and the market presented quite a contrast compared with Thursday, when there was considerable excitement.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil to-day were as follows:

A. B. Mills,	80	D. M. Edgerton,	240
Fisher & Bro.,	4,500	Leech & Wood,	160
Creery & Beau'nt,	480	Fleming & Co.,	280

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 7, 1868.

The general markets are moderately active, and some articles are firmer in consequence of scarcity; as a general thing, however, there is an ample supply of all the leading commodities to meet the wants of the local trade, and thus far there has been but little inquiry for export. Corn is considerably firmer in consequence of an expected "corner" in Chicago about the 15th inst., and prices are higher. In fact Grain of all kinds is firm though with the exception above noted, there is no change in prices.

BUTTER—There is a steady demand and we can report regular sales at 30 to 35c, for good to prime.

EGGS—Dull but unchanged; we continue to quote at 19a20c.

HAY—Sales at the Allegheny Diamond market of 82 loads at $17 to $30 per ton, according to quality. Straw was quoted at $25,00.

MILL FEED—Sales of choice Middlings reported at $2,40; and Seconds at $1,60.

GREEN APPLES—In steady demand but unchanged at $3,50 to $5,50 per bbl as to quality.

POTATOES—In good supply, and dull, but unchanged; we continue to quote at $3,00 to $3,50 per bbl.

GRAIN—There is considerably activity in Wheat, and we can report a sale of 11 car loads new Winter, to go out of the market, on private terms. Prime Red may be quoted at $2,10 to $2,15; and White at $2,20 to $2,25. Corn is considerably excited, and prices are higher; sale of 1 car Ear at $1,10; and 1 car mixed at same figure; strictly prime Yellow is held at $1,15—an advance of 5 cts per bushel. Old Oats are being sold at 82 to 83 in elevator, and 84 to 85 in store; New crop may be quoted at 60 to 62. Old Rye is in demand at $1,45 to $1,50, and little or none to be had. New Rye is in demand at $1,25. Nothing doing in Barley as yet.

SEEDS—Flax seed is in demand at $2; it will bring the same figure in Cincinnati. There appears to be no demand for either Timothy or Clover Seeds.

PROVISIONS—There is a continued good demand for Bacon at 13¾ to 14 for Shoulders; 16¼ to 18½ for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 21½ to 22 for Sugar Cured Hams. Mess Pork has advanced to $30. Lard is firm at 19½. Dried Beef unchanged at 21½.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged at $1,15 for No. 2 and $1,40 for No. 1.

SALT—Is reported dull at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade and $2 for small lots in store.

FLOUR—The Flour market is firmer though there does not seem to be any decided improvement in demand. There are so many different grades of Flour in market that it is almost impossible to quote correctly, and besides there are no established prices. Spring Wheat brands range all the way from $10 to $11; and Winter Wheat may be quoted at $10,75 to $11,50. Rye Flour, $9,25 to $9,50, for Choice. The following are the Pearl Mill prices for fresh ground articles, which quotations are the same for all our mills, viz: Double extra, wholesale in barrels, $11, and retail $11,50; wholesale in sacks by the barrel, $10,70, and retail per singly sack, $2,85; extra family flour, wholesale in barrels, $10,50, and retail $11; wholesale in sacks by the barrel, $10,20, and retail $2,70 per sack.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 7, 1868.

The metal market has been considerably excited this week, and with a brisk demand and an unusually light supply prices have advanced about two dollars per ton. The demand it seems is not confined to Pittsburgh alone, as we understand that there are inquiries from Cleveland, Buffalo and other points abroad, and it is said that the sales would have been larger had it not been for a scarcity of stock. We understand that out of some thirty-two or three furnaces in Westerm Ohio, all but two or three are out of blast, and this accounts for the very meagre arrivals from that section.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

CAPE COD AND ALL ALONG THE SHORE. Stories. By Charles Nordoff. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

Those who were favored with a hasty reading of these charming stories, in "Harpers' Magazine", and the "Atlantic Monthly," will be pleased to have them in bound form, and those who have not indulged in the luxury of reading them would do well forthwith to purchase the volume. Mr. Nordoff has brought to bear the experience of years in the preparation of these stories, and is known to be a practical writer of decided merit. There is a naturalness in his style, that gives character and reality to his writings.

HORACE WILDE. By Mrs. M. Jeanne Mallary. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by R. S. Davis, 93 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

This work belongs to the class of fiction called "religious novels," if the classification is proper. Religious controversy and love are closely locked in the pleasant narrative. It is an entertaining story, though highly flavored with exclusive views on Baptism. The colloquy, however, is conducted in good spirit and in an interesting style. Closely linked with the controversial parts, is the schooling of hearts in the mysteries of love, ending in a union of connubial bliss.

THE CRUISE OF THE DASHAWAY; or Katie Putnam's Voyage. By Mary Mannering. Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston. For sale by John W. Pittock, Pittsburgh.

Readers of the "Helping Hand Series" have some idea of the character of these books, their object and design. The moral lessons taught in this series have made them a great favorite with young people, inclined to do right. This volume is a story of sea life, written in a racy, captivating style, conveying by this mode lessons of valuable instruction to the youthful mind.

JOSH BILLINGS ON ICE; and other things. With comic illustrations by J. H. Howard. Published by G. W. Carleton & Co., New York. For sale by John W. Pittock, Pittsburgh.

Works of this class, however objectionable they are, to persons of refined taste, are popular and much sought after by the masses, for the rich humor which they contain. This fresh collection of the gayeties and gravities of the renowned author, will secure hosts of readers. It is an admirable book for pleasure-seekers to read, by the sea side, in the woods, and at watering places, where festivity prevails. Many object to the elaborate bad spelling because it tends to encourage a species of vulgarism that should be discountenanced. The book, however, will doubtless have a wide sale and be popular with multitudes.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES, AND GREAT EXPECTATIONS. By Charles Dickens. With twelve illustrations. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

This volume is "The Charles Dickens Edition," the merits of which have over and over again been noted. Compressed in this book of five hundred pages may be found two of Dickens' great novels. Its excellencies may be enumerated thus: Rich purple covers, illuminated with Mr. Dickens' remarkable autograph in gilt; its compactness of size; neatness of the types, and the running head-lines at the top of each right-hand page, affixed by the author himself and peculiar to this edition.

THE LOST CAUSE REGAINED. By Edward A. Pollard, Author of the "Lost Cause," &c. Published by G. W. Carleton & Co., New York. For sale by John W. Pittock, Pittsburgh.

The name of the author is familiar to many, as being the editor of a rebel journal in Richmond. It is to be expected that the South would be glorified, and the negro denounced, as an inferior being. To what extent the "Lost Cause" has been "Regained," is depicted in glowing words, as only a Southerner can portray. However, much as we may differ with the author on certain questions, prominent in the late war, the book serves a useful purpose in giving important facts in the administration of the rebel cause, which could not be well obtained only through such sources. This fact, of itself, will make the work popular and increase its circulation.

FROM THE OAK TO THE OLIVE. A Plain Record of a Pleasant Journey. By Julia Ward Howe. Published by Lee and Shepard, Boston. For sale by John W. Pittock, Pittsburgh.

Books of travel are so numerous that it scarcely seems possible to write anything sufficiently new and varied, to make a book of this character interesting. However beaten the track may be by travelers, there are always places in European travel worthy of reproduction and worthy of reading, however frequently the same course may have been passed over by others. This record of Mrs. Howe has a freshness, vivacity, and piquancy, which makes it readable and instructive. She holds the pen of a "ready writer," and describes cities with their memorable places and things, and customs and peculiarities of their people, in an interesting manner. Many readers will dissent with her in regard to her views on religious matters.

THE CORNER HOUSES. MARK STEADMAN. Published by Henry Hoyt, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

These volumes form a part of "Hoyt's Sunday School Series of Juvenile Religious Works." They are well named, and are admirably suited for Sunday School Libraries, and for the family circle. There is a healthy glow throughout both volumes, in which lessons are taught worthy to be followed by young people. Under the guise of such stories, great moral principles are illustrated, and have the effect also of forming the character of youth in the right mold.

HARPER'S PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION. Published by Harper & Bros., New York. For sale by Henry Miner. Pittsburgh.

This gigantic work which occupied a period of five years of careful preparation is just completed by the publication of Nos. 33, 34, 35. These numbers treat of the capture and surrender of Petersburg and Richmond, the retreat and surrender of Lee, Johnson's surrender, flight and capture of Davis, death of Lincoln, conduct of the war, and reconstruction, 1865-1867. This work is undoubtedly the best on the great rebellion that has appeared. It has been completed in a spirit independent of the special interest of any party, and the impartiality and frankness of its comments on public questions, apart from the grand pictorial embellishments and accurate maps which have been supplied with a generous hand, render the work valuable in a high degree. We have been favored with several of the later numbers, and from these we make our estimate of the work.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW for July (Quarterly.) Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston.

This able Quarterly comes laden with articles of marked ability, as the following contents indicate: 1. Lawrence Sterne. 2. Meteoric Showers. 3. The Religious Reform Movement in Italy. 1. The Lumber Region of Michigan. 5. George William Curtis. 6. Essay on Liberal Education. 7. John Hookman Frese. 8. The Chicago Convention. 9. Dryden. 10. Commercial Immorality and Political Corruption. 11. Critical Notices. The article on "Dryden," by James Russell Lowell, is one of much merit.

THE REBELLION RECORD: A Diary of American Events. Published by D. C. Nostrand, New York.

The LXXIIId number is just out, completing this work. The careful details of the events of the Great Rebellion have been embodied in this history, in an impartial manner, from official documents on both sides. Its importance to all private, and more especially public and district libraries, will be readily seen from the facts named. The numbers are elegantly illustrated with steel plate engravings of distinguished officers of both armies.

CAMEOS FROM ENGLISH HISTORY. From Rollo to Edward II. By the author of "The Heir of Redclyffe," Philadelphia, J. B. Lippincott & Co. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

History is presented in a very attractive and interesting form for young folks in this work. Pictures of persons and events are drawn with such distinctness that there is a charm about it which interests as well as instructs the reader. These "Cameos" were prepared years ago for a special purpose, and afterwards were revised and enlarged to make this excellent book. They commence with the tenth century and come down to the death of Robert Bruce in 1329, early in the reign of Edward the Third. The second volume will contain the wars of the Middle Ages, and those of the Roses. The book is printed in elegant style.

DOTTY DIMPLE AT HOME. By Sophia May, author of "Little Prudy Stones." Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston. For sale by John W. Pittock, Pittsburgh.

This little volume is a charming one for "wee folks," and is written in simple style for the capacity of young minds.

FARM TALK. NURSES AND NURSERY. Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston. For sale by John W. Pittock, Pittsburgh.

The first named is a series of admirable articles in the colloquial style, illustrating various common farm topics, written by George E. Brackett, Belfast, Maine. It is practical and worthy of a wide sale.

"Nurses and Nursery," is a pamphlet of eighty pages, number five of "Tracts for the People," written specially with reference to the Management of Sick Women. It contains valuable suggestions.

A CORRESPONDENT of the London Field relates the following curious incident: "Having been told by my brother that a blackbird had taken possession of a hen's nest in the hedge of the farm garden, and had been sitting upon a hen's egg for the last ten days, I went up to the farm to satisfy myself as to the truth of the story, and there, sure enough, was the blackbird on the nest. I put her off and examined the egg, which was quite warm. The farming man told me that when he first found the nest there was only one egg in it, which the blackbird was sitting upon, but that since that time the hen has laid regularly in the nest, and he has always removed the new-laid eggs. During the time the hen is laying, the blackbird perches in some pea beds close by, and seems anything but pleased by the intrusion."

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

SAFETY FIRE JACKET.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

To Advertisers.

An immense extra edition of the WEEKLY GAZETTE will be issued from this office Wednesday and Saturday of next week. The papers will be circulated widely by the parties ordering them, and will find their way into every city, town and village of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Western Virginia. A limited number of special advertisements will be taken for the occasion, which must be furnished before Tuesday noon, in order to insure publication.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

Jail Improvement.—A new water pipe is being laid in the jail.

Cleaned.—Some of the streets in the city are being cleaned. All of them need it badly enough.

Arm Broken.—A lad named Martin fell from a wagon on Liberty street, yesterday morning, and had his arm broken.

Uncomfortable.—The wind, yesterday, raised the dust considerably, and made it very uncomfortable for pedestrians.

Car Jam.—Eight cars were gathered together yesterday at the toll gate on Penn street, a lumber wagon having stalled and obstructed the track.

There will be a meeting this evening of the Union Republicans of the Twelfth ward, (old Ninth), at the School House, for the purpose of forming a Grant and Colfax Club.

Run Over.—A little girl was slightly injured by being run over on Thursday evening on Pennsylvania avenue, near Vine street. She was about five years ago, and but slightly hurt.

Disorderly.—Eliza Adams alleges that Mary Hoover acted in a very disorderly manner in the neighborhood where she resides. Mary was arrested and held for a hsaring by Alderman Thomas.

Slapped His Mouth.—John Berger alleges that Henry Kempel, a workman living near the car station in Minersville, slapped him in the mouth. Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for the arrest of Henry.

The Cause.—The detention of the trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday was caused by a freight train, which jumped the track at Lewistown, near Harrisburg. No one was hurt and the trains are running regularly to-day.

False Pretence.—W. J. Mullen made information yesterday against David Gibbs for obtaining ten dollars from him by false and fraudulent pretences. The parties reside in Sewickley, and a warrant was issued by Alderman Strain.

Street Fight.—Two men got into a fight on Water street yesterday afternoon about four o'clock. One of them was knocked down and kicked in the head by his opponent, causing it to bleed profusely. We did not learn the names of either of the parties.

Hardware Store Robbed.—On Thursday evening some thieves entered Godfrey's hardware store on Ohio street, Allegheny, and carried off a lot of knives and other small articles. The thieves are supposed to be boys, but thus far no clue to the perpetrators has been discovered.

Arrested on Suspicion.—The police on Thursday evening arrested a somewhat noted character named John Stuart on suspicion of larceny. When taken he had a car axle in his possession, which looked as if it came from the depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad. He was locked up for a hearing.

Held.—Elizabeth Brown got into a little difficulty with Rachel Carsey, yesterday, which it seems could only be settled by a suit between them, and accordingly Elizabeth made an information before Alderman Lindsay against Rachel for assault and battery. Rachel was arrested and in default of $300 bail committed for a further hearing.

Threatened to Shoot.—Alderman Thomas yesterday arrested Jessie Allen, on oath of Elizabeth Allen, for surety of the peace. Elizabeth alleges that Jessie used very abusive language toward her and said twice that he would shoot her. According to his statement she would be a dead woman in less than five months. He was held for a hearing.

Fatal Accident.—Yesterday morning an old lady named Richardson, while attempting to ascend the hill back of Temperanceville, fell over an embankment, breaking her neck and causing instant death. Coroner Clawson held an inquest in the afternoon, and after an examination of several witnesses the jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Drew Blood.—John Thomas says that he was standing in a store door on Pennsylvania avenue yesterday, when John Campbell came up and struck him in the face with his fist with such force as to draw blood. Campbell was intoxicated at the time. He was arrested by Alderman Thomas' police and committed, but afterwards procured bail and was released.

The End.—The Republican Conferees of the Twenty-fourth Congressional district came to a decision yesterday, and placed in nomination Capt. J. B. Donley, of Greene county, as candidate for Congress in that district. Capt. Donley received eight votes on the last ballot, after which the nomination was made unanimous. Altogether they have been in session about twelve days.

Threatened Assault.—Sarah Morgan alleges that Thomas Davis came home the other evening in an intoxicated condition and created considerable of a rumpus in the house. She went in to see what the disturbance was about, when Thomas threatened to strike her, and she is now afraid that Thomas will carry the threat into execution. Alderman Thomas issued a warrant for the arrest of the accused.

Struck Her.—Margaret McNair made information yesterday against Christopher Splane for assault and battery. She alleges that Christopher was playing in an open lot near her house, with some other boys, and that she ordered them away on account of the noise they made, when Christopher refused to go and struck her in the face. The accused was arrested and held to bail by Alderman Thomas.

Abandonment.—Catherine McDonald alleges that she was married to John McDonald in the month of November, 1867, and that some time ago John deserted her and took up his abode with another female, since which time he has refused to do anything toward her support. John is at present living in Webster street, and Catherine on Pennsylvania avenue. A warrant was issued by Alderman Strain for the arrest of the alleged delinquent.

Train Thrown Off.—Yesterday morning the mail train on the Allegheny Valley Railroad met with an accident which detained it for some time. It seems that when about three miles north of Brady's Bend the locomotive struck a cow on the track, throwing it off against an embankment at the side. The animal rolled back and fell under the wheels of the first passenger car, throwing it off the track and creating considerable excitement among the passengers. No damage was done beyond the injury to the car trucks.

Sunstroke.—A woman named Mary Stoefle was prostrated with the heat on Factory street yesterday morning. She was conveyed to her residence, in Spring alley, and medical assistance called in. She will probably recover.

Central Grant Club.—There will be a meeting of all the Presidents of the various Grant Clubs, together with one member from each organization, throughout the county, this evening, at the headquarters of the Second ward Club, No. 66 Smithfield street. Prompt attendance is earnestly urged, as the meeting may be regarded as one of the most important of the campaign.

Last evening the Republicans of the Thirteenth ward met and organized a Grant and Colfax Club. The following gentlemen were chosen officers of the organization: President, Robert Arthurs; Vice President, Robert Inder; Secretary, John F. Herron; Assistant Secretary, Thomas H. Dickson; Treasurer, James M. Hunter. The meeting was quite enthusiastic and adjourned to meet next Monday evening at seven o'clock at the Minersville School House.

The Game To-Day.—The game to-day between the Cincinnati and Allegheny clubs promises to be a very close and interesting one. The Cincinnati boys claim to be the champions of the West, and thus far they seem to merit the title, having been victorious in every encounter since starting on their tour. The Allegheny boys hope to turn the scales to-day, and as they are hard to beat, there will be an exciting contest. We hope that the best club will win.

Examination Concluded.—The Examining Committee for applicants to the Military Academy at West Point commenced their labors last Monday and concluded them yesterday. There are six contestants for the appointment, and the examination was conducted only in the English branches. The Committee, consisting of R. B. Carnahan, Esq., Prof. George N. Munro and President Woods, of the Western University, will make their report on Monday, after which Gen. Moorhead will make the appointment accordingly.

Alleged False Pretence.—Julius Weber yesterday made information before Alderman McMasters against Henry Been for false pretences. Weber alleges that Been sold him the bar fixtures and stock of a saloon in McClure township for three hundred dollars, representing at the time of the sale that there were no outstanding debts against the establishment, all being clear. Since that it has been discovered that Been was in arrears for rent, and the landlord had a judgment against the property sold to Weber, covering the amount. A warrant was issued.

Dead Child Found.

Coroner Clawson yesterday afternoon held an inquest on the body of an infant, which was found by some boys while playing in the bar, near Finkbine's saw mill, on the Allegheny river. It seems that the boys saw a box floating in the river, which they secured. Upon being opened it was found to contain the dead body of an infant wrapped up in some rags. The body bore no signs of violence. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts.

The Benninghoff Robbers

Had a hearing at Franklin yesterday, which resulted in all of them being held to bail to answer the charge at the August term of the Venango county Court of Quarter Sessions. Weldey was held in the sum of $20,000; Shopert, (for further hearing) $10,000; Miller, $5,000; Gerger, $1,000. It seems singular that the bail was made so light, as the evidence is so strong against the prisoners, and the amount stolen approximates half a million dollars. If these are the guilty parties they can very readily make up the $36,000 purse, and with the large share of spoils remaining depart for other points where the penitentiary will not have any terrors for them.

Reception.

Bishop Mullen, the newly consecrated Catholic Prelate of Erie, was received in that city on Thursday with much enthusiasm. He had a formal reception tendered him by Erie delegates, who met him at Girard. Rev. Dr. Coody delivered the address of welcome, and the Bishop neatly responded. The Bishop was escorted to the Cathedral by a large procession of citizens, and many of the houses along the route were festooned in honor of the occasion. In concluding its report the Erie Dispatch says:

"Thus ended one of the most brilliant ovations ever witnessed in Erie, and the Bishop must certainly feel that his home will be made pleasant among his new-found friends."

City Mortality.

Dr. A. G. McCandless, Physician to the Board of Health, reports the following interments in the city of Pittsburgh from July 26th to August 2, 1868:

Diseases—Adults: Dysentery, 2; Urialmia, 1; Diarrhœa, 1; Consumption, 1. Children: Inanition, 2; Basilar Meningitis, 1; Cholera Infantum, 4; Disease of Lungs, 2; Hydrocephalus, 1; Croup, 1; Marasums, 2; Disease of Bowels, 1; Whooping Cough, 1; Enteritis, 1; Typhoid Fever, 1.

Of the above there were, under one year, 13; from one to two, 3; from ten to fifteen, 1; from twenty to thirty, 1; from thirty to forty, 1; from sixty to seventy, 1; from seventy to eighty, 2.

About a Trunk.

Thomas Duffy, a lumberman, residing in Clarion county, relates the following story: Not long since he spent a few months in Pittsburgh, boarding during his stay with Mrs. Herwig, on Penn street, in the Ninth ward. Leaving Pittsburgh on a visit home, he found on his return that his landlady had moved away from the house formerly occupied by her, taking along some of his property, consisting of a trunk containing clothing and other things, amounting in value to one hundred and forty-five dollars. Upon making inquiry and search he discovered the lady in Lawrenceville and asked about the property, when he alleges she denied all knowledge of it, and refused to talk with him on the subject. Under these circumstances, he consulted Alderman McMasters and made an information for larceny as bailee against the landlady. A warrant was issued.

Two Charges.

Officer Poland, of Alderman Hay's police, yesterday, lodged information for assault and battery and surety of the peace against Fred. and Doretha Shuly. The officer states that he had an execution against the property of the defendants, who keep a tavern in the Allegheny Diamond. He went there in company with officer McKnight to remove the goods, but as soon as his errand was made known he alleges that the defendants attacked him savagely, the lady knocking him down and the gentleman drawing a sabre and threatening to quarter him. But for the interference of Mr. McKnight the officer verily believes that the threat would have been carried into execution. Finding it impossible to execute his commission he withdrew, followed by an intimation that if he returned on any similar business the sabre would be brought into requisition. The accused were arrested and gave bail in the sum of $1,100 for a hearing, $300 on the charge of assault and battery and $700 on the information for surety of the peace.

QUEENSWARE.

A New House—The East Outdone—Why Should Merchants Purchase Abroad When Lower Prices and Better Goods are Offered at Home?

Feeling that Pittsburgh would support a first class wholesale and jobbing queensware establishment, and that the large trade hitherto diverted in favor of Eastern merchants might be retained at home, if proper stocks were carried, prices offered and inducements afforded, Messrs. Boyts & Ogden, two well-known, enterprising and capable business gentlemen, have just opened one of the most extensive establishments of that character to be found in the United States. This house, which has already advanced to a place of importance in the trade of the city, is located at No. 23 Wood street, a point favorable to the jobbing trade, being near to both river and rail, and so soon as its merits are fully laid before the public it must rejoice in an immense patronage, derived not only from an immediate neighborhood, but likewise from Western Virginia, Eastern Ohio, and States contiguous to our own. The firm have opened with an immense importation of goods, direct from Europe, where they were purchased for cash, gold, by one of the partners recently, and from an examination yesterday we were almost led to believe that they proposed supplying half the tables west of the Alleghenies with superior queensware, so extensive is the stock. First we entered the cellar, where crate after crate, original packages, unopened, from Europe, were packed on top of each other and as closely as they could be stored. These contained thousands on thousands of dollars worth of goods and are held in reserve for the opening of trade. On the next floor, the principal sale and sample room, we were lost amidst a profusion of goods embracing everything known in this line of business, from the tiny little toy cup up to the mammoth bowl and pitcher. Indeed, so closely is this room occupied with stock that we could hardly find passage way between the shelving groaning with cups and saucers, and the counters and floors covered with miniature mountains of table plates of all sizes, qualities and descriptions. Here also will be found a splendid variety of fine pressed and cut glass ware, chandeliers, oil lamps and superior china ware. These articles are made specialties, the principal trade, however, being in queensware. On the second floor the same great exhibition of snowy white and colored stone ware greets the eye, and so on through the third and fourth stories, even up to the attic. The firm have already filled a warehouse on Second street, together with their Wood street house, with the first instalment of their primary importation, and have another cargo on board the Cumberland, now on the ocean. Their facilities for doing business is unequalled and they will doubtless entirely monopolize a vast share of trade from this neighborhood and the west. They have a large force employed, and while the interests of the house are represented by a number of traveling salesmen, all the departments at home are attended to in the best possible manner. Perhaps the best advertisement the firm could have is the fact that they will duplicate the prices of all invoices shown of purchases from eastern importers, and as a regular thing will sell at prices much more reasonable than prevail beyond the Allegheny mountains. Merchants will take this fact into consideration, as it will save them many a dollar to bestow their patronage on Messrs. Boyts & Ogden. In the first place they can purchase at this house goods at less rates than those of eastern competitors, and next they save traveling expenses, hotel bills, &c., and all freights by confining their patronage here. With large capital and sound business judgment the members of this new business house propose to carry on their trade in such a manner as not only to win confidence, but likewise to build up such a trade in this line of business as will be an item of material importance in the mercantile statistics of the city. They will deal largely in lamp goods, having an immense and varied stock on hand, and will offer great inducements to patrons of that department. Dealers abroad and city merchants making up their orders will consult their interests by giving this house a call. They will be fairly astonished at the immensity of the stock carried and the very reasonable prices prevailing in every department. The gentlemen composing the firm are praiseworthy, obliging and honorable, with whom it is a pleasure to deal, and we bespeak for them the large trade due their energy and enterprise. Their house cannot fail to become the great popular trade mart for goods in this line, as making direct importations, for which they enjoy unusual facilities, they can keep the market supplied constantly with the very best quality of goods, and moreover will be enabled to sell at prices below the most reasonable of eastern houses.

The Cattle Question—Meeting of the Allegheny Butchers.

A meeting of the Allegheny butchers was held last evening at eight o'clock in the Mayor's office, for the purpose of adopting measures to prevent any diseased cattle from being purchased in Allegheny. Jos. Beilstein occupied the chair, and J. N. Hazlett acted as Secretary. There was quite a large attendance of the butchers and a very free discussion of the subject took place. They finally resolved unanimously for the present to buy no cattle coming from the East Liberty stock yards or from Chicago. A Committee, consisting of James Reed, Joseph McDonald and Geo. Hartman, was appointed to inspect all cattle brought into the market to-day. Those present pledged themselves to buy no stock unless it was recommended by the Committee. The Committee was also instructed to petition Councils for the appointment of a Meat Inspector.

An invitation was extended to the butchers of Pittsburgh to meet with them to-day at one o'clock in the same place, after which the meeting adjourned.

Result of a Pic-nic Row.

Patrick Marley made information before Alderman McMaster yesterday against Alex. Hoak, one of the Mayor's police, for assault and battery. Patrick states in substance that he attended a pic-nic at McFarland's Grove, on Thursday, and while there a fight occurred between two boys, which created a great deal of excitement, but was finally stopped. Just about the time it ceased Hoak came up and inquired what the matter was. Patrick made a remark to the effect that police officers were never on hand when they were needed, but always came up when the fuss was over. Nothing was said at the time by the officer, but shortly afterwards he came up to Marley, who was standing by a tree, and asked him what he meant by the remark. The reply was that no offense was intended, but Hoak, it is alleged, not satisfied with this explanation, knocked the man down and kicked him, and would have otherwise abused him but that his victim, regaining his feet, ran off as fast as possible. Hoak was arrested and gave bail for Court.

Academy of Music.

Under the management of Gov. Foster, who always has been a great favorite in Pittsburgh, the brief season of pantomime at the Academy of Music has been an auspicious one. Every night the audience increases. The performances have been of a rare and high order, and are vastly super or to anything of the character we have ever seen in this city. This afternoon a grand matinee for ladies and children will be held, when "Number Nip" will be performed for the last time. With the performance to-night, when a rare good bill will be presented, the season closes.

Shoplifters Arrested—A Large Haul.

Yesterday afternoon, about two o'clock, two women entered the trimming store of Dennison & Heckert, on Fifth street, ostensibly to make some purchases. While in the store one of them was detected in the act of stealing a pair of stockings, and when discovered she immediately offered to pay for them. The proprietors, suspecting that all was not right, refused to let them go, and called in officers Kelley and Stewart, who were near at hand, and who conveyed both women to the lock-up. As they were being taken through to the cells officer Stewart noticed one of them throw something behind a door. He immediately made search and found a piece of ribbon, about half a bolt altogether, which looked as if it was perfectly new. Examining it closely he discovered the trademark of F. H. Eaton stamped upon it, and comparing it with a piece in Mr. Eaton's store he found it to be exactly the same. This led to an investigation of the affair, which resulted in the unearthing of a quantity of stolen goods, and the probable breaking up of a regular system of shoplifting. The women gave their names as Gailey and Anderson. Mrs. Gailey resides on the corner of West and Second streets, and Mrs. Anderson on First street, in the Third ward. At the house of Mrs. Anderson where the police first searched, they found a number of dress patterns and one silk dress. At Mrs. Gailey's they discovered a large size velvet cloak, worth about fifty dollars, several silk dress patterns, a roll of fine linen and eight fine towels, and a number of other valuable articles in the dry goods line.

The goods were all brought to the office where they remain for identification. The women have evidently been some time in collecting the booty, and it is probable that they have made a regular business of it. Bail was entered by each in the sum of $500 for their appearance for a hearing this morning.

The Cattle Disease—The Water we Drink.

Yesterday Hon. James Blackmore, with his usual promptitude and care for the public interest, accompanied by Messrs. George Fortune, Secretary of the Board of Health, and his Assistant, Williams, visited the East Liberty Stock Yards for the purpose of ascertaining what effect might be had on the general health of the community from the cattle disease, and to discover in what manner the carcasses were being disposed of. They found some of the bone boiling establishment, whither had been taken the carcasses of the animals, in a wretchedly filthy condition, many of the bodies being exposed to the sun and far decomposed, filling the atmosphere with the most terrible stench imaginable. Nor was this all. The offal, containing enough poison to sicken an entire community, was thrown into a run which leads to the Allegheny river, and our people have been for several days past swallowing the juice of the boiled flesh of diseased cattle. The order was at once given by the authorities to bury the offal in a deep pit with lime, and we trust that it will be obeyed, as it is no pleasant thing to realize that the Allegheny river is so largely charged with sickening poisons. It is bad enough to have served upon our table health destroying beef, but careless bone boilers have taken due pains that the water we drink shall be charged with filth and poison. It is but prudent to abstain from the water as much as possible, at least until sufficient time has elapsed to permit the poison with which it must be now charged to pass away.

Alleged Outrage—A Strange Affair.

On Thursday evening a young man giving his name as G. Gaab stopped a couple of the night police on the line of the Allegheny Valley Railroad and requested their assistance. He had a rather strange story to tell, which in substance was as follows: He had been taking a walk with a young woman named Lena Jones, and while going along the Allegheny river bank, near Wilkins street, they were attacked by five or six rowdies, who had been secreted behind a pile of lumber, and who knocked him down and used him in a very rough manner. In the meantime the young woman was dragged away by the rowdies and when he recovered no trace of them could be seen. The police, after making a thorough search of the neighborhood, and failing to discover anything, accompanied the young man to the boarding house of Miss Jones, on Penn street. Gaab went into the house telling the officers to remain outside. After waiting for some time, and finding that Gaab apparently intended to remain inside, they went away, supposing the matter to be all right. Yesterday morning a rumor was current that the girl was still missing and that the young man was suffering from the injuries he had received, but upon inquiry it was ascertained that she had returned home. No further particulars of the affair could be ascertained, however.

Wants to Move.

John Owens, of the First ward, Allegheny, wants to move from his present residence to another, but in endeavoring to carry out his wishes in this respect he has unexpectedly had some difficulty. He had taken away one load of his furniture, had returned for the remainder, when he found the house barred against him and his irate landlady, Margaret Stewart by name, on the inside emphatically protesting that he could move no more things until he paid up, which was an indication that John was slightly in arrears. Notwithstanding all he could say, the landlady was firm, and the only recourse seemingly left to him was to seek the law's redress, which he accordingly did. Margaret was arrested on a charge of larceny as bailee and brought before Alderman Bailee, where she gave bail for a further hearing.

A Good Word.

Alfred Caldwell, City Missionory, appeals to the Christian public of all denominations for contributions to the library which has just been established in the jail for the use of the prisoners. A book case has been provided which at present contains a small but appropriate selection of books donated by the United States Christian Commission. Contributions of books or money may be sent to the residence of the agent, Rev. A. McLaughlin, No. 50 Federal street, Allegheny, or, if notified, he will call for them; or to Robert Orr, No. 25 Fifth street, President; or to J. D. Carlisle, Treasurer of the Association, No. 19 Fifth street. The object is certainly a very praiseworthy one and we hope to see it encouraged by liberal contributions.

Railroad Accident.

John Mates, a brakeman of a freight train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was badly hurt yesterday at Brinton Station by being caught between two cars. It seems he was engaged in uncoupling some cars from a train on the siding, when another train backed up against it, Mates being caught between the bumpers. His left hip was badly bruised, although no bones were broken and it is feared he has received serious internal injuries. The Johnstown accommodation conveyed him to the city, where he received medical attention from Dr. Hamilton, and was afterwards conveyed to his home at Turtle Creek where, he has a family.

Mayoralty.

MESSRS. EDITORS: In answer to many inquiries, I will state there is a call numerously signed asking Mr. James Robb to become a candidate for Mayor of this city, which will appear in due time.

CITIZEN OF ELEVENTH WARD.

A Word about Sewing Machines.

The day for hand sewing is past. Woman has been reen redeemed by the votaries of Science from the worst slavery imaginable, and will never more be forced to waste away her life in the tedious, dull work of drawing the thread-filled needle. The age of sewing machines brought the color of health to thousands of fair cheeks blanching for the grave, and as many households have been made happy by the sweet song of industry sung by the "Singer"—for all persons have learned of the great excellence of that machine, the first practical benefit derived from the promulgation of the general principles of the invention. The Singer has advanced steadily in the estimation of the public till to-day it occupies the proudest position of them all. It is simple in its construction, put together in no intricate manner, and can hardly get out of order, and if it does it can be repaired by the least skilful in mechanics. It performs its work in such a manner as to win for it the palm of superiority, being superior and substantial. It works with rapidity and ease, and takes in the vast range of work which many suppose beyond the power of machinery, and is almost noiseless in its motions, requiring no strength, skill or endurance to successfully operate it. During 1867 the Company manufactured 43,053 of their world-famed Singers, which was a much larger number than the product of any similar Company for the same period. Figures generally tell truths, and in this case fully demonstrate that the public have a just appreciation of this marvellous invention of the age, and in no unmistakeable manner assert their preference. The workings of the Singer Machines must be seen to be appreciated. They run light, have most perfect feed, best extra attachments, and perform more work without change of needle or thread or tension than any other offered to the public. The General Agents for this city, Messrs. Straw & Morton, at their elegant rooms, corner of Penn and St. Clair streets, have a splendid stock on hand of the various styles of machines, and any of our readers contemplating making a purchase in this line should not fail to call and examine them. If properly understood and appreciated, the Singer machine would find its way into every family in the city.

Street Obstruction.

An engineer of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, was brought before Mayor Drum yesterday morning charged with violating a city ordinance by obstructing Ohio Avenue, in the Second ward, Allegheny. The offence consisted in allowing his engine, attached to a train of cars, to block up the crossing on the Avenue, thus preventing travelers from passing that way. The shifting yard of the company abuts on the Avenue, and it has been the custom in making up the trains to use the crossing, thereby delaying travelers who may have to pass that way, very often from fifteen minutes to half an hour before the tracks are sufficiently clear to allow of a safe crossing. The officers of the company have been notified of the matter several times but they say it has heretofore been impossible to prevent it. They have, however, procured additional grounds on the north and west side of the depot, and as soon as the tracks are laid it will remove the shifting yard so that the trouble will be obviated. The arrested party yesterday was fined twenty-five dollars, which he paid and was discharged. Subsequently, it is stated, he met the informer against him, and beat him severely, threatening to put an end to his life. An information was lodged against him for assault and battery. He gave bail for a hearing on this second charge, which will take place this morning.

The appearance of the popular retail trimming store of W. W. Moorhead, No. 81 Market street, with its large and varied stock of choicest goods in the line of trimmings, notions and embroideries will fill the eyes of the ladies with wonder and satisfaction. All the prettiest styles are offered at very much reduced prices and the selection afforded is remarkably fine. For any and everything in this line our readers should favor Mr. Moorhead with a call, for they cannot fail to be satisfied.
